MUCH has been written about why the Soviet broke off relations with Israel. The conclusion, it is usually the same — that Russia for a long time has been ranging about in search of a pretext, which the Tel Aviv bomb provided. It is a convenient deduction and it may be accurate. But very little has been said about what the Soviet action portends. In some daring quarters it has been claimed that as a consequence of the sharp severance of relations with Russia, Israel has been isolated. That, too, may be right. It so, it will be because the Moslem States, including Persia and Pakistan as well as Israel's immediate neighbors, are under no compulsion to love, honor and obey the West; and therefore need expensive wooing. Israel's case is different. She has nowhere else to go and can be left to cool her heels on the western doorstep without fear that she may run to the rival door. That, it would seem, is the argument of those who say that Russia's action has isolated this country. It can only be controverted by the West itself.

THE tragedy of the event is the severance of relations — tenuous as they may have been — with the Jews of Russia, who have become, indeed, isolated. The political mishap probably lies in the fact that the situation can be exploited by the Arabs to the disadvantage of Israel. For whether Russia's hostility to Israel grew out of her decision to follow a pro-Arab policy, or whether it was the other way about, or whether the pro-Arab policy was merely incidental opportunism, it cannot be denied that the latest events have played into Arab hands and have put the Arab Governments more firmly in their seats astride the international fence. As a result, it is not improbable that the Arabs will get more arms, not less, from the Western Powers; and more money, not less. The probability that Israel, now a declared enemy of the Soviet Union, will get the arms she has asked for, by no means follows.

EVEN before the rupture of Soviet-Israel relations, Mr. Eban had been closeted with General Bedell Smith, Under-Secretary of State, and, according to American reports, had set out among the reasons why the United States should send arms to Israel, the worsening of relations between Israel and Russia. Apparently, he made the point that Britain and America should accept the Soviet thesis that Israel is the focus of western influence in the Middle East, and change their policies to fit that thesis. It seems very unlikely that they will do anything of the kind, especially now that Egypt, thanks in some measure to American intervention, has come to terms with Britain on the problem of the Suez Canal zone. It is believed that Mr. Eban also spread General Bedell Smith's desk with evidence of Arab frontier misconduct, which he attributed, partly, to a new psychological arrogance brought about by the deliveries of heavy armaments by the West to the Arab States. The argument may have been good; and soundly based; but the Arabs in London and Washington have been saying that Israel has deliberately fomented frontier trouble with the object of persuading the United States to give Israel arms. That may not be a good argument; but it is one that is easily swallowed; and may go down even more easily now that Israel has been driven by the Soviet to range herself openly with the West.

Knesset May Debate Soviet Rupture Today

Prime Minister Ben Gurion is today expected to make a statement in the Knesset on Soviet Russia's decision to break off diplomatic relations with Israel. This issue, as well as the outlines of the statement, were discussed yesterday at the weekly meeting of the Cabinet in Jerusalem.

The procedure to be followed in the Knesset today is to be decided upon by the House Committee.

It is believed that the statement will be in reply to the non-confidence vote proposals tabled separately last week by the Communist Party, Mapam and the Shin "Left Faction" following the bombing of the Soviet Legation.

Herut also tabled a proposal urging a debate on the Soviet decision. Representatives of these four parties are expected to speak briefly on their motions, before the Government statement.

The Government statement, it is believed, will outline Israel-Soviet relations preceding the diplomatic break and indicate both the domestic and foreign consequences as foreseen by the Government.

If time permits, the Police Minister, Mr. Behor Shitrew, will report on the police force.

Cabinet Communique
The communique issued after yesterday's weekly Cabinet meeting stated:

The Cabinet held its weekly meeting yesterday in Jerusalem and heard a political review by the Foreign Minister, Mr. Moshe Sharett. The Cabinet considered the implications of Soviet Union's break of diplomatic relations with Israel and decided to make a statement on the matter in the Knesset.

Israel's USSR Legation Begins Liquidation

MOSCOW, Sunday (AP). — The Israel Legation began today selling its furniture, dishes, carpets and foodstuffs as it prepared to leave Moscow after the break in relations with Russia. Many members of the Moscow Diplomatic Corps visited the Legation where various items, from perfume to coats to rugs, were offered for sale.

The Legation hopes to have all its property sold by the time it quits the city, the date of which is still not fixed.

U.N. Gets Plan To Stop Anti-Semitism

UNITED NATIONS, Sunday (INA). — A programme of action to prevent the excesses of anti-Semitism in the Soviet bloc has been presented to President Dwight Eisenhower and U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie by 40 prominent Americans.

They ask that the U.S. and the U.N. initiate the following four-point plan:

- 1) a solemn public condemnation and denunciation of this attack against the Jewish people as an incitement to massacre;
- 2) to declare, as a deterrent, that American help under Point Four and other assistance schemes will be withheld from any country which engages in such attacks;
- 3) to make clear to the Arab world the importance of such a formal statement of the Palestine war as an end in itself and as a prerequisite to productive relations with the U.N.;
- 4) to place on the U.N. agenda a proposal for the establishment of a "watch-dog" committee to prevent anti-Semitic violence anywhere as contrary to the Charter of the U.N. and the principle of peaceful relations between countries.

The sponsors of the plan include Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Freda Kirchway, editor of "Nation," Roger Baldwin, head of the International League for the Rights of Man, and a number of Protestant bishops, college presidents and lay and business leaders. They expressed their alarm at the modern rise of anti-Semitism in Russia and Eastern Europe and their fears that it might spread in the Middle East and Germany.

Switch in Arab Policy Seen After Moscow Move

CAIRO, Sunday (UP). — Abdul Khalek Hassana, Secretary-General of the Arab League, said today the Arabs should make use of Russia's diplomatic break with Israel to "reorient our policy."

In an interview, Mr. Hassana said, "Our duty is to reorient our policy with a view to availing ourselves of this move in the most cautious way without committing ourselves to support any specific policy. At any rate, our position should be dictated by Arab interests — befriending our friends and being hostile to our enemies."

Firm on Reparations
Referring to West Germany's agreement to pay reparations to Israel, he said the Arabs stand by their decision to break off economic relations with Bonn if the latter ratifies the treaty.

Meanwhile, Fritz Koch, head of the East German delegation here, told reporters today he was confident a commercial and payment agreement could be concluded with Egypt.

The delegation has presented a long list of goods which East Germany could supply Egypt. Talks will resume tomorrow on methods of payments.

'OGONEK' ARAB

MOSCOW, Sunday (UP). — The illustrated weekly, "Ogonok," published an interview with Sheikh Mohammed al Ammar, Syrian religious leader, in which he said, "Arabs have no reason for hostility toward the Soviet Union. I believe there are ties of inextinguishable friendship between our peoples which are daily growing stronger."

The Sheikh promised to devote himself to this work on his return home.

Al Ammar was being visited by the USSR during the past few weeks. "Ogonok" said his name is well known to the entire Arab world as one of the leaders of the Syrian resistance against the French in 1925 and 1927 and a "participant in the anti-imperialist uprising of the popular masses in Palestine in 1936."

Al Ammar told the weekly that before his departure from Damascus to Moscow, a prominent British diplomat — "a Lord" — had tried to persuade him against going to Moscow and Peking.

'Trud' Opens Drive Against Histadrut

MOSCOW, Sunday (AP). — Another bitter attack on Zionism and Israel was published here today. The trades union newspaper "Trud," after repeating charges that Zionist organizations are engaged in espionage, launched an attack on the Histadrut.

It claimed that the Zionist heads of this organization are carrying on a campaign of psychosis and anti-Soviet hysteria, like the rulers of the State of Israel.

"The real beast-like face of the Zion agents of the doll is clear to the entire world," the paper said.

U.S. RAISES $1m.

NEW YORK, Sunday (INA). — A conference at which $1m. was handed to the Histadrut Campaign Committee, today praised the Histadrut for its work in Israel for the unemployed, immigrants' housing, health and vocational training.

The conference, representative of 10,000 organizations affiliated to the National Committee for Labor Israel, also endorsed the Histadrut Secretary's decision to expel Communist members.

The delegates, addressed by Mr. Berl Locker, Chairman of the Jewish Agency Executive, and Dr. Arye Kubov, late Minister to Czechoslovakia and Poland, unanimously denounced the "resurgence of anti-Semitism as the official state policy within the Soviet Union and satellites."

Yugoslavs Display 'Flying Saucers'

BELOGRADE, Sunday (Reuters). — Flying saucers today whirled over the roofs of Belgrade at varying speeds and heights. Belgrade radio reported later that they were made by the Yugoslav Air Force Construction Institute as an experiment. They seemed to make noise across the city and were also heard. Controlled by wireless, they can reach a speed of 10 kilometers an hour. It was not explained how they were powered. The radio said the Yugoslavs made the saucers without previous experience, but added that the Dutch were the first to build them.

Belgian Premier Flies to See King

NICE, Sunday (Reuters). — Premier Jan Van Houtte of Belgium flew to the Riviera today to see King Baudouin.

The Premier said after an 80-minute conference that it was merely his weekly routine meeting with the King, a recent target of press criticism. But the fact that they were joined by M. H. Verwiltgen, veteran head of the King's secretariat, made it look as though the meeting was "rather out of the ordinary," a Brussels cable said.

The King has been condemned by Socialist and other circles for holidaying while his people suffered in the recent floods. The King returned to Belgium in the face of criticism during the floods but resumed his holiday after a brief tour of the devastated areas.

No Trace Found Of Missing Girl

RAMAT GAN, Sunday. — No trace has been found of four-year-old Rabel Levin, Shiklon Kibbutz girl, who disappeared yesterday evening after her mother sent her to summon her father for supper from a neighboring flat. Mifde Ezerah, an isolated suburb of Ramat Gan, is surrounded by open fields.

Tel Aviv police headquarters were almost empty today as all available personnel were recruited to participate in the search for the 70-centimeter-tall, fair-haired child who wore a red and green dress topped by a white collar when she disappeared. The child, whose father is a taxi driver, speaks Hebrew. She has a one-year-old brother. The search party now numbers 1,000 persons including policemen, 200 cadets of the Shiklon Am Police Officers' School, and a contingent of the Ramat Gan, Be'er Brak and Petah Tikva fire brigades and 60 students of the Kibbutz Ezerah seminar. Surrounding areas, as far as Lydda road, were combed. Firemen searched abandoned wells, scattered through out the area. A military Police Club plane, accompanying the searchers, dropped instructions to guide them. Dogs, radios and searchlights were used. Rifles were repeatedly fired during the night and flares sent up to frighten away wild animals.

30 Taxi Drivers Held for Fight With Policemen at Roadblock

BEERSHEBA, Sunday. — Some 30 drivers of the Yael Interurban taxi service, were detained here today following a fist fight with policemen which started when four Yael taxis formed a barricade on the Beersheba road, near Mithmar Hanegev, in order to block the passage of Arab taxis who opened their Tel Aviv-Beersheba line this morning.

A taxi from Tel Aviv was stopped and the air was let out of its tires. Later, another taxi, this time from Beersheba, was stopped and its three passengers forced to board a taxi which took them free of charge to Tel Aviv.

When police arrived from Beersheba and tried to make way for the immobilized car which had then been repaired, dozens of Yael drivers, mostly Yael taxi drivers, gathered under the vehicle and prevented it from moving.

Blows were exchanged between policemen and the drivers in the course of which Assistant Inspector Moshe Mirzai sustained a severe head injury and was taken to Beersheba Hospital. Another policeman was also injured.

Police reinforcements reached the blocked area near noon and after a violent struggle, the Yael men were overpowered and taken to the police station.

Later in the day, 20 members of the War Invalids Association arrived here from Tel Aviv by bus and demanded that a doctor be provided to determine whether the detainees were physically fit to be imprisoned.

Tory Minority Opposes Concessions to Cairo

By GEORGE LICHTHEIM, POST Correspondent

LONDON, Sunday. — Tory back bench dissatisfaction with last week's agreement on the Sudan is not expected here to interfere seriously with the next item on the Anglo-Egyptian agenda — evacuation of the Suez. There are rumours that the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Eden, had difficulty quelling a Tory back bench revolt and it is seriously suggested that another surrender to Cairo will cost him the promised succession to Mr. Churchill as Prime Minister and Party leader. If so, he seems willing to pay the price.

There are rumblings in a section of the Tory Press and today Lord Killearn (Ambassador to Egypt, 1939-46) came out strongly against appeasing Egypt in an article featured by Lord Beaverbrook's "Sunday Express." However, the Foreign Office and the general Staff seem united in holding that the Suez base is worthless without Egyptian cooperation and their joint influence is expected to prevail.

More relevant is the question whether General Nagib can be induced to sugar the pill by coupling the forthcoming evacuation agreement with a formal promise to join the Middle East Command. In view of the latest Egyptian refusal to give such an undertaking beforehand, the best Mr. Eden's friends are able to suggest privately to the Foreign Secretary's critics is that Egypt's readiness to cooperate militarily with Britain may form the subject of an unpublished protocol when the evacuation agreement is signed — probably in the early summer.

Labour Opposition

Presumably, the same applies to Britain's role in equipping Egypt's forces, once the agreement is signed. Here, Mr. Eden is expected to run into trouble with Labour, whose front bench, since Mr. Gaitskill's and Mr. Dalton's recent trip, seems at last united in opposing before arms deliveries to Egypt before there is peace between the Arab States and Israel. But these critics are at cross purposes with those right-wing Conservatives who oppose a withdrawal from Egypt, and no move has yet been made to link the two viewpoints. The latter view, however, is privately sympathetic with conservative ambitions to achieve greater independence for Britain from American advice. Presumably the Government will once again manage to steer through between these rocks. Labour approved the Sudan agreement and cannot very well oppose evacuation of the Suez. Conversely, some Tories may be mollified by the prospect of Britain retaining a privileged position in Egypt, at least as an arms supplier.

This has become clearer, argues the reported East German offer to Cairo of $100,000 and 500,000 rounds of ammunition — a sum of money to come. The arrival in Cairo of an East German trade delegation, which was accompanied by a Soviet trade mission, has had its counterpart in the recent visit to Berlin of an Egyptian delegation which, among other things, established contact with those neo-Nazi circles in the Federal Republic who also come with the Communist regime.

One rather circumstantial report suggests that the East Germans, through their Nazi contacts in Bonn and Cairo, were able to advise the Egyptians on the political loyalties of the 70 German military experts in Cairo and to suggest that they should be retained, as a menacing example of cooperation between the Soviet authorities, the neo-Nazis and the Egyptian Government which, ostensibly, maintains friendly relations with the West.

This incident is believed to have played its part in leading the British Government to recall its own mission from Cairo.

46 Feared Dead In U.S. Plane Crash

NEW ORLEANS, Sunday (Reuters). — Three life rafts with bodies aboard were sighted today in the stormy Gulf of Mexico near the route taken by an airliner missing with 47 persons on a flight from Tampa, Florida, to New Orleans, the coast-guard reported here.

The rafts were reported seen about 150 kilometres southeast of Mobile, Alabama, by planes taking part in the search. The coast-guard said the bodies of passengers of the missing plane were coming to the surface off the Alabama coast.

Shorav from Libya

The shorav which has been felt in this country for the last three days was caused by a centre of low pressure in the Libyan desert which induced a southeasterly stream of dry and hot air into our region, the Lydda Meteorological Service informed The POST last night.

The centre passed its peak of development today and is expected to weaken within 24 hours. A continuation of these khamsin conditions with slightly higher temperatures in most parts of the country is forecast for today.

3 New Tremors Rock Turud As Death Toll Rises

TEHERAN, Sunday. — Three more earth tremors today shook Turud, 200 miles east of Tehran, finishing off the few buildings left standing after Thursday's disaster.

The Shah today visited the village, in which nearly 1,000 persons were killed.

U.S. Ambassador Loy Henderson today ordered U.S. air force planes from Dharan, Saudi Arabia, to fly to Iran to help rescue operations in Turud.

Reports from the village said 700 persons are still trapped in the rubble.

Mr. Henderson called in the air force after two conferences today with Iranian relief organizations.

Water Shortage

According to reports troops and volunteer workers were pulling bodies from the rubble in a desperate attempt to save some of those trapped. Several victims pulled to safety died on route to the nearest hospital 30 miles away.

Relief trains were arriving in Shahrivar, 60 miles north of Turud, but had roads allowed supplies to reach the stricken region only in dribs and drabs. The main problem of survivors was complete lack of water because of the destruction of canals or subterranean channels, which dried up. Iranian army and U.S. military planes were dropping supplies of water tanks they had to Turud, but they were not sufficient.

IRAN ARMY CLASHES WITH TRIBAL REBELS

TEHERAN, Sunday (UP). — Government forces were today bombarding a rebel fortress in the oil country in Southwest Persia according to the semi-official paper, "Ettelaat."

A group of Bakhtiari tribesmen, led by Abolghasem Bakhtiari, a relative of Queen Soraya, who have consistently opposed Teheran authority, killed two officers and 40 men and captured 200 others of the troops sent to quell them.

Government reinforcements, four columns led by Colonel Teymour Bakhtiari, a nephew of the rebel leader, have encircled the rebel stronghold of Kalesar, 70 kilometres from the oil centre of Masjid Sulaiman and have been pounding it with cannon fire.

21 DEAD IN ITALY TRAIN CRASH

BENEVENTO, South Italy, Sunday (Reuters). — An express train derailed off the curving track in Benevento station today, killing 21 people in the wreckage of ten coaches.

More than 70 people were known to have been injured, including 25 detained in hospital.

The Benevento station master said the train, pulled by an electric locomotive, had entered the station "far too fast."

Police headquarters said the driver and his mate, both injured, were under guard in hospital.

Flood Peril Averted By Calm in North Sea

LONDON, Sunday (AP). — Britain, the Netherlands and Belgium defeated swelling North sea tides today but in some places the margin was measured in inches.

Hope for final triumph in this tense weekend rests with the weather. The tides will continue climbing higher until late tomorrow night, but the North Sea has remained calm and continuing calm weather was predicted for the next 24 hours.

TRYFUS TAKES STAND AT HAIFA RETRIAL

HAIFA, Sunday. — Deputy District Inspector Arye Shur appeared in the District Court today as the first defence witness in the trial of First Inspector D. Tryfus and Sergeant Z. Schwartz on the charges of abuse of office, assault, causing grievous bodily harm and conspiring to influence court procedure.

Mr. Shur said that he had warned the prosecution witness, former Constable A. Warburg, that if he gave evidence before the District Court contradicting that which he had given before the Police Tribunal, he could be tried on charges of giving false evidence. "I don't care as long as I fix Tryfus," Warburg had replied, according to the witness.

Tryfus also took the witness stand in his own defence. He denied that he had ordered the police record changed for the night when Riton and Hinson were allegedly beaten up by policemen after they left the Eastern police station here, declaring that everything said about him during the trial was false.

Damage estimated at IL10,000 was caused. None of the children who lived in these huts was hurt. The fire brigades of Kfar Saba and Herzlia kept the fire from spreading.

Exit Visa Waiting Period Reduced

Exit visas will be issued immediately upon application at the District Representative's Office as from March 1, Mr. Y. Lurie, Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Services, and Ministry of Interior, told the press in Jerusalem yesterday.

Persons subject to any form of army service will be required to present a letter from the authorities granting permission to leave the country. The existing Immigration and Naturalization Service which will be attached to the District Representative's Office will issue the exit permits immediately, but the visas will become effective only 10 days after they are issued.

During the waiting period, the applicant's name will be forwarded to the Finance Ministry, the Jewish Agency and the Police. It is a complaint in the foreign press that the country is unable to leave the country as soon as the 10-day period expires.

Six-Month Validity
The visas will be valid for six months and for as many trips abroad as the holder may make during this period. Granting of the permit does not assure a grant of foreign currency, or permission to buy tickets with Israeli currency, both of which must still be authorized by the Finance Ministry.

Mr. Lurie also reported that the Jewish population at the end of January numbered 1,450,000, an increase of 40,000 during 1952. Last year, 22,375 immigrants entered Israel and 11,128 (including 430 non-Jews) emigrated to other countries, mostly Canada. The country's natural increase in population was about 20,000.

From the establishment of the State to the end of last year, 797,278 immigrants arrived here, including 124,223 from Iraq, 121,538 from Rumania, 104,717 from Poland, 62,560 from Czechoslovakia, 4,447 from the Yemen and Aden, and 10,000 from other countries.

Haifa Eshed Workers Go Out on Strike

HAIFA, Sunday. — Some 250 Eshed employees struck yesterday in protest against their not having received the 11.5 monthly cost-of-living allowance since December 15. The men include garage hands, clerks and ticket sellers. Altogether 450 workers are employed here by the cooperative and 100 men still at work today are scheduled to strike tomorrow. The strike is supported by the Labour Council.

The workers had been promised a payment of IL12 by February 12, but they received their January salaries today without it. The Eshed management explained that it had no cash and would pay the allowance in April. The workers refused to accept the wages and struck at 11 a.m. The strike had not yet affected bus services this evening.
